THE NEXT SESSION.

PROBABILITIES THAT PARLIAMENT WILL NOT MEET AGAIN UNTIL NEXT YEAR.

The Government Not Anxious for an Early Meeting—Hicks-Beach's Work in Ireland—The Home Secretary's Pro-French Speeches—Gen. Willoughby's Political Views—The Home Secretary's Pro-French Speeches—Gen. Willoughby's Political Views—The Home Secretary's Pro-French Speeches—Gen. Willoughby's Political Views.

Special Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. LONDON, September 28.—The chances are that Parliament will not meet again until next year. The Government is not anxious for an early meeting. Hicks-Beach's work in Ireland is being done. The Home Secretary's pro-French speeches are being made. Gen. Willoughby's political views are being expressed.

CLIFFORD LLOYD will not go to Ireland. The Colonial Office is very sorry and surprised to see him in England at all. He had given him a shilling appointment to the Secretary of the Colonial Office.

HERN WATKINS' OLD OPPOSITION. In Dunfermline have been telling numerous stories of the Home Secretary's pro-French speeches. In one of these he referred to the pure-souled and healthy Scotch plaiding away in a white dress.

NEW WILLOUGHBY. I have had an interview with Gen. Willoughby, the English commander of the native forces in Madagascar. He takes a serious view of the French action, and is not at all in sympathy with the French action.

THE ALLIED CANADIAN TREATY. I am informed on the highest authority that the alleged treaty between Canada and the United States, published last week, is a pure fabrication. No treaty whatever, on the subject, has been under consideration.

ENGLAND. RECENT ENTERTAINMENT. LONDON, September 28.—The Congregational Board of Ministers formally entertained the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher and his wife this afternoon in Memorial Hall, in Farringdon street.

THE REV. HENRY WARD BEECHER. The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, President of the Board, presided, and the Rev. John Nunn, President of the Board, presided, and the Rev. John Nunn, President of the Board, presided.

MANCHESTER, England, September 28.—The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, President of the Board, presided, and the Rev. John Nunn, President of the Board, presided, and the Rev. John Nunn, President of the Board, presided.

PARIS, September 28.—A riot took place during the unveiling and dedication of the statue of Armand Barbès, the Republican leader, in the department of Aude.

THE REVOLUTIONARIES. The revolutionaries became provoked at the demonstration in the case of such a contractor as Barbès, and attempted to control the demonstration themselves. In this they were resisted by the police.

Strike of Chicago Boxmakers—Probable Strike of Feeders and Pressmen.

CHICAGO, September 28.—Between 60 and 70 boxmakers went on a strike yesterday, and fourteen of the sixteen factories are closed up.

All of them were very busy, having orders ahead. The advance asked, however, for one cent on every box, and 10 per cent on piece work, was so unreasonable, that the boxmakers refused to make it.

The London correspondent of the New York World called his paper Saturday night, the following: "I am becoming more and more convinced that there will be no American Exposition in London next year."

He said that he had been told by a reliable source that the London Exposition was a myth, and that the American Exposition was a myth.

Will catch the people, and that is the reason we sold so many shoes during the conclave week.

We made Sir Knight happy in every instance that he paritized us, and the close margin we sell goods warrants us in saying that our home patrons will be as well satisfied as our visiting friends, who so liberally purchased of us. Come one, come all, and examine the most complete stock of Shoes ever brought to the city.

BOSTON THEN AND NOW.

Some Striking Changes That Have Come Over the Old Town.

From the Boston Globe.

The survey of Boston as she was fifty years ago, which appeared as a feature in yesterday's Sunday Globe, was doubtless laid away by many readers with a much reading always has a peculiar interest, as it lifts the veil which separates us from the past, and reminds us forcibly of the dizzy speed at which the car of civilization is plunging on.

But what we all civilization is paid for, from some points of view, at a heavy price. Nowhere in the article which we published yesterday is there a more strikingly suggested than where our contributor speaks of the shadowy police force which sufficed fifty years ago to keep Boston on her good behavior with a population of nearly 80,000. "The chief thing to be said about our police is that there wasn't any," he says. "The chief thing to be said about our police is that there wasn't any," he says. "The chief thing to be said about our police is that there wasn't any," he says.

It would be pleasant to think that with the progress of education and refinement people are as law-abiding now as they ever were, and although there are many rational causes to explain away the absence of police fifty years ago, yet we confess to finding unsurmountable difficulties in explaining it away altogether. Though it would not be quite fair to put a city of 80,000 people to-day, with every square guarded by police, in comparison with our Boston of fifty years ago, having the same population, yet it is not quite easy to understand the astonishing increase in the necessity for police guardianship. Every body understands very well that we now have the population of Boston fifty years ago, has far more property to guard than fifty years ago, and as for our crowded condition to confront, but when all this is taken into account, it leaves much to be yet explained.

Carl Marx, Henry George, and the Socialists generally, insist upon it that the immense police force of modern times is due to the fact that modern gains are to a great extent ill-gotten and illegitimate, and hence are guarded by a police force from those who style the hungry victims of a false social system. But property is scattered into many hands, and it is always more in this country, where we have no primogeniture and entail by which a man is permitted to dictate the affairs of a living, moving world from his coffin.

Those who still cherish the austere plian of the orthodox Boston of fifty years ago will maintain that our great police necessities are due to the absence of that God-fearing spirit which characterized the fathers, and that the world is rapidly sinking into the slough of universal wickedness. When our contributor says it is probably true that more people were in the city than Sunday from this city to Revere Beach than there were in all its churches on last Easter morning, these good people find therein a key which unlocks the whole problem of modern crime.

Without discussing this view of the case, which has received such masterly treatment at the hands of Mr. Lockey in his valuable work, it will suffice to say that we do not believe men and women are any worse now than they were fifty years ago, and that the police force is not so much a result of the modern condition of things, but a result of the modern condition of things.

December wheat at 77c, and this one thing did more to pull the market than did the advance from Milwaukee, which reported a heavy crop of wheat as either out of condition or under suspicion. New York reported a heavy crop of wheat and better export demand, but here was some demand, but here was some demand, but here was some demand.

BRANCH STORES!
WE HAVE SIX.
The leading and most popular Clothing and Furnishing Stores in Philadelphia, Chicago, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Kansas City belong to Bringing, King & Co.

The success of each of these Branch Stores has been marvelous. The reason why these stores have stepped at one bound to the front rank and into the confidence of the people, distancing all competition, is plain enough. We do our business on sound business principles. We manufacture our own goods—everything from a Child's 4-year-old Suit to garments that do away with all jobbers' cash, which are always such a heavy tax on merchandise. Paying for each the enormous amount of clothing fabrics that we do, is a power for obtaining choice goods at low prices that few clothing houses possess. We employ the best designers of Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing, thus assuring our customers of always finding with us the latest styles. We employ in making our Fine Clothing the best custom-tailors on this continent.

Our Clothing is made only for our retail stores. No other clothing can buy it at any price. This gives us exclusive styles not found in any stores but ours. We are always able to give much lower prices than any competitor for same class of goods. The people know us. They know these facts. They also understand very well that high prices do not make Fashionable Clothing, and that suits, such as sell at $12 to $20, are no better because they are marked to sell at $18 to $30 in a high-priced house than has paid the jobbers' prices on every dollar of its stock.
